

Safety and reliability that you can trust

MAILING

In Britton Decoflex we strive to provide our clients with reliable distinctive packaging that is not only cost effective, but performs at the highest standards whilst minimizing their carbon footprint on the environment. In the Mailing environment, we continually strive to develop products that add value, safety and reliability to our clients.

Every communication with customers creates a crucial image, Envelopes, bags, pouches, mailing and stationery packaging, using high strength polymers, we can supply to any demand for any application.

Our Polylope range of mailing envelopes comes in a variety of colours, shapes and sizes from stock our we can produce bespoke items to your own specification.

We supply safe, strong, reliable and weatherproof materials, moisture and interference resistant, which are lightweight but high strength.

This is not only comforting but keeps mailing costs down and creates less packaging waste. We can supply opaque films for confidential mailings and clear films to instantly display the content to best effect.

Our film combines the highest quality design and manufacturing capabilities from film on the reel to ready to seal mailing bags. Our Polymer Scientists can advise on, gauge, strength, polymer formulation and sizes to suit every project required. We can deliver printed material in up to eight colours, and we are confident we can engineer mailing solutions that will guarantee economy and design excellence.
